Recommended trial model For Travellers:

Do not use a generic “14-day trial” as the main mechanic. Use a guided free experience:

- free onboarding
- free exploration
- free checklist preview
- free initial document staging Lock:
- advanced AI
- full readiness support
- submission guidance
- premium workflows

This lets users experience value first and upgrade at the point of trust. For Firms: Use a controlled 14-day pilot trial:

- full access to the core portal
- limit case volume
- limit exports
- limit high-cost AI/OCR consumption
- include onboarding support. Why: This lets firms experience the operational benefit before purchase without turning the trial into a free production environment.

Why this pricing fits the product

This pricing is justified because the system is built around:

- a rules engine that controls valid categories and case-type logic
- document intelligence with OCR/classification/verification
- AI copilot actions for summaries, blockers, missing document requests, motivation letters, and risk explanations
- multi-tenant firm workflows
- background jobs, notifications, audit events, and entitlements.

At the same time, pricing should remain realistic because the review report found several gaps still needing attention, including AI document review reliability, communications, broader visa/category coverage, client editing, eligibility assessment depth, and task automation maturity.

Final recommendation to team Adopt this structure:

- Free
- Basic
- Plus
- Pro

- Overstay segmented plans
- Starter Firm

- Scale Firm
- Enterprise
- Premium Concierge

This gives you:

1. a better acquisition funnel
2. clearer upgrade logic
3. more defensible SaaS pricing
4. room to monetize high-cost features properly
5. a clean premium layer for high-margin service cases
